Dubai Frame - Visit to Museum of Future

- Proceed for a visit to the Dubai Frame. The frame measures 150 metres high and 93 metres wide is the latest attraction. The two towers are connected by a 100-square-metre bridge, which has a 25-square-metre glass panel in the middle offering a great 360 degree view. You can visit a museum on the ground floor that will showcase Dubai's transformation from fishing village to metropolis.
- The Museum of the future is as unique as it sounds and offers the visitors extraordinary sensory and visual experiences while being educational. The best part about this place is that unlike other museums, you do not have to be cautious about what you touch. On the other hand, this is an interactive museum and the more you touch and engage with the exhibits, the more fun you would have.

- ⓘ
- For children below 4 years, the entry is free. Ticket for them will be issued at the Museum of Future counter only (no online ticket available). A valid ID card will be required to issue the free infant ticket. If no ID is presented, a full price ticket will have to be purchased for entry of the child.
